Research Experience

- 2025– Co-Principal Investigator. Implementation of an iterative model of ludic imaginative praxis and social change in Arbor Hill, a socioeconomically disadvantaged neighborhood in Albany, New York. This includes conducting an ethnographic “play census” to understand how and where the residents of Arbor Hill play games. Emerging from this will come the formation of a democratically organized community analog games club in the neighborhood that use games as a means of critical consciousness and collaborative imagination towards the end of making Arbor Hill a more just, more resilient community in the face of the twin pressures of climate change and gentrification. “Game-based Community Development of Eco-Resilience in Albany, New York,” Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Dutchess Community College.
- 2019–23 Research Associate. Development of an innovative approach to the study of religion, science, and technology in contemporary public life through post-secular, multi-sited, and multi-modal inquiry while establishing an intellectual hub for its programmatic elaboration. “Beyond Secularization: A New Approach to Religion, Science, and Technology in Public Life,” Templeton Religion Trust, Collaboratory on Religion, Science, and Technology, Center for the Study of Religion and Conflict, Arizona State University.
- 2017–19 Research Associate. Ethnographic and engineering research to develop a methodology that allows fluent human-machine collaboration in low gravity environments using an assistive exoskeleton. “Microgravity Human-Machine Integration,” Interplanetary Initiative, Arizona State University.
- 2017–19 Research Associate. Ethnographic research looking at how the integration of water sensor displays impact the water choices of building occupants. “Future H₂O,” School for the Future of Innovation in Society, Arizona State University.
- 2017–18 Research Associate. Speculative integration of STEM, social science, and the arts to imagine what legal, political, and social norms will govern human exploration of outer space through a physical, publicly assessable, performative analog. “Rehearsing the Future,” Interplanetary Initiative, Arizona State University.
- 2015–17 Principal Investigator. Archival and multi-sited ethnography for M.A. thesis. “The New Right Stuff: Social Imaginaries of Outer Space and the Capitalist Accumulation of the Cosmos,” Department of Anthropology, Northern Arizona University.
